

Winter Sleep

Winter Sleep (Turkish: Kış Uykusu)

Aydin, a former actor, runs a small hotel in central Anatolia with his young wife Nihal – with whom he has a stormy relationship – and his sister Necla who is suffering from her recent divorce. In winter as the snow begins to fall, the hotel turns into a shelter, but also an inescapable place that fuels their animosities...

At the 2014 Cannes Film Festival Winter Sleep won the Golden Palme and the FIPRESCI Prize.
